

Kicking Cancer's Ass ~ The legacy of Edgar Cayce

Edgar Cayce (1877-1945) has been called "the father of holistic medicine." His appearance in this work on health and healing takes us back once again to the roots of holistic theory, to the reasons why this is being published, and to the essential truths resting in my own heart regarding our very existence.

We are spiritual beings temporarily encased in human form. We are part of God and God is part of each and every one of us. There is no vast separation. We are somehow linked by a warm and loving thread that we play a part in strengthening or weakening with every thought, word and deed.

There is no necessity for devilish arbiters or agents to act as our angels and interpreters when it comes to prayer and becoming one with a higher source. Our pathway to God need only be as weeded or clearly lit as we choose to allow.

This is not a question or debate of religion, as spiritual masters from all creeds have echoed agreement on the fundamental principles of individual capability regarding understanding and communicating with God. Such agreement only becomes muddled and murky when self-annointed representatives swoop down with insistence that the only way to heaven is through the doorway they construct.

Ultimately the power is within us, if we choose to find it and use it, to cure the ills both in society as a whole and in ourselves and each other as individual entities.

The magic is not rooted in money or in government or in insurance or in the medical establishment. We should only see these things as branches to utilize, not as masters to fear or depend upon. The magic is from a higher source and it is a source that yearns not for materialism and false prestige and status and power, rather, it is a higher source that patiently awaits for us to empower ourselves, our fellow inhabitants and the world.

Holistic medicine calls into play the inter-relationship and essential coordination and connection between the mind, body and spirit. At its root, in its most essential form, is love. It is not something we can see or rely on politicians to dole out or hope for corporations to measure or foundations to divide up for us. It is a power increasingly ignored by us - a species weaned on fear and intimidated into the very shackles which love and truth urge us to release ourselves from.

This is the message, the thrust behind "Kicking Cancer's Ass." And it is essentially what the legacy of Edgar Cayce is also all about. We have the capabilities and the power within and between us to make the world a better place, to cure every ill, to make strong each mind, to make happy each heart, and to bring genuine peace and freedom into fruition both within us and beyond us. The only questions are if we really want to and if we really want such things more than anything else. For there is no army nor dictator nor man-made monopoly of any kind that can stop love. It is our choice.

Edgar Cayce has also been called "the sleeping prophet" because he rendered diagnoses and offered predictions well beyond the medical field while resting in a trance-like state. It was while in this state that Cayce would, thousands upon thousands of times, tap into a subconscious world of knowledge and truth and bring endless nuggets of wisdom and advice back up and out to the surface for human consumption.

Many who listened to Cayce's advice regarding health and healing and who followed his directives on finding wellness and curing disease found success and recovery. Of over 14,000 "readings" Cayce delivered in his 43 years of "psychic advising," nearly 9,000 focused on medical topics. All the readings, both medicinal and non-medical, were recorded and exist intact at the library and headquarters of the Association for Research and Enlightenment, the Cayce Foundation in Virginia Beach, Virginia, which works to enrich humanity through the spread of Cayce's messages.

As is stated in Edgar Cayce: Encyclopedia of Healing (by Reba Ann Karp), a compendium of prescriptions for afflictions of all kinds, including cancer, "In all of the Cayce readings for illnesses, there is deliberate emphasis placed on locating the root cause of each malady, which accounts for Cayce's focus on establishing new and more constructive habits and attitudes rather than on simply alleviating symptoms."

In adhering to the realization of the different make-ups and backgrounds and experiences - the individuality - of each person who went to Cayce for help to heal their afflictions, a wide variety of treatments and recommendations were amassed

4627 Great Northern Blvd
North Olmsted
440/777-0877

JOE BARNI
HEALTH FOODS

15001 Madison Ave
Lakewood
216 /221-2633

YOUR BEST CHOICE FOR NATURAL VITAMINS, HERBS, FOODS AND MINERALS ~ CARRIERS OF ESSIAC

STORE HOURS: Mon. thru Fri. 10-6; Sat. 9:30-5:30

With this coupon...

20% off any ONE bottle of Vitamin E or Vitamin C in the store

One coupon per visit

offer not valid with any other offer or discount

Ron McEntee
Publisher

in the accumulated "readings." According to Alternative Healing: The Complete A-Z Guide to Over 160 Different Alternative Therapies (by Mark Kastner and Hugh Burroughs), these included: osteopathy, chiropractic, massage, exercise, soplustrated nutrition and diet, every known form of hydrotherapy, sweat baths, fume baths, colonics, a large variety of packs, electrotherapy, and even conventional medicine

In previous segments:

Especially for those who have been told to go home and die by self-annointed omnipotent medical experts, or who have loved ones being told there is no hope to become healthy again, Active Voice Publisher Ron McEntee began his series on cancer and health and healing:

"...One thing I do believe with all my heart is that fear is itself afraid of love. Fear will run from love because it will be destroyed by it. And the first step of being destroyed by cancer is to allow fear to pervade rather than love, and to allow hope to be exterminated rather than nurtured so that it can blossom and grow and bear fruit and heal..."

Part Two of "Kicking Cancer's Ass" included McEntee's emphasis on "The power within" along with a story concerning the history of Essiac called "Ojibwa Herbal Tea: Indian myth or healing remedy?"

In Part Three, "Christine's story" was told, a powerful first-person narrative detailing one teenager's bout with cancer, her subsequent victory, and her message to fellow cancer fighters.

In Part Four, "Let the healing begin," McEntee re-aired his previously published reference guide, "Here's to Your Health," for those wishing to begin a self-study into little publicized natural medicinal methods. Reference contacts were shared as well as an urge for people, especially in matters of health and healing, to "always believe in yourself. Believe in your own abilities to love and to be loved, to care and to be cared for, and to search for and draw your own judgements about 'the truth.'"

Part Five featured "Caring about curing cancer," a response to this series from an Active Voice reader.

Part Six focused on a "miracle" herb called pau d'arco and its abilities and history of fighting cancer.

Part Seven talked about media and medical monopolies and the dangerous and surgery. Cayce also advised usage of "an incredible variety of herbs, common chemicals such as sulfur and cream of tartar, every type of oil imaginable, lights, colors and original appliances of his invention."

Clearly, Cayce was not an advocate of lumping cases conveniently together and brushing sweeping generic strokes across countless individual portraits for the sake of fast and easy money. The idea was to heal people, as individuals - mind, body and soul.

This chapter on health and healing, including words on related topics taken directly from Cayce readings, as well as related Cayce resources and affiliations (please see page 7), is only an introduction into a very elaborate yet simple, powerful yet comforting school of medicinal thought.

Refreshingly, it is a school where all students are equal, all students are loved, and all students are warmly offered to utilize their minds and hearts to heal each other rather than worship blind experts.

It is a school of thought that says love and truth not only win in the end, but also should serve as our guiding force throughout the entire journey. The rewards are as inherent and possible as we realize them to be.

12th in a series on cancer and health
and healing

For the back issues containing this entire series, send $7 to Active Communications, Inc. at Active Voice, P.O. Box 394, Berea, OH 44017; or call 440/243-4547 with questions or suggestions.

Edgar Cayce (1877-1945)

Born on a farm near Hopkinsville, Kentucky, Edgar Cayce is the best documented psychic of all time. For forty-three years of his adult life, he had the ability to place himself into a self-induced sleep state. Then, provided with the name and location of an individual - anywhere in the world - he would give answers to any question that person asked. His answers came to be called "readings."

For many years, the information requested of Cayce related mainly to physical ailments. Eventually, the scope of his work expanded so that in addition to health and healing, subjects included: philosophy and reincarnation, dreams and dream interpretations, ESP and psychic phenomena, spirituality, meditation, history, ancient civilizations, Jesus, soul growth, and much more. In fact, during his lifetime, Cayce would cover an astonishing 10,000 different subjects!

More than 300 titles have been written about Edgar Cayce and his work. (This biographical summation of Edgar Cayce appears on the videotape, "The Edgar Cayce Legacy: An introduction to the work of the best documented psychic of all time," copyright 1994 by the Edgar Cayce Foundation, distributed by and available from the A.R.E. Press, Sixty-Eighth & Atlantic Avenue, P.O. Box 656, Virginia Beach, VA 23451-0656; 1-800-333-4499; www.are-cayce.com)

What is A.R.E.?

The Association for Research and Enlightenment, Inc. is the international headquarters for the work of Edgar Cayce (1877-1945). Founded in 1931 to preserve, research, and make available concepts from the Cayce material, the A.R.E. offers conferences, educational programs, and community activities throughout the world. For information on activities, available resources or participation and membership, call 1-800-333-4499. Or write A.R.E. at 67th St. and Atlantic Ave., P.O. Box 595, Virginia Beach, VA 23451-0595. For a free catalog call toll free at 1-800-723-1112.

Edgar Cayce on Healing:

"...let's analyze healing for the moment, to those that must consciously...see and reason, see a material demonstration, occasionally at least! Each atomic force of a physical body is made up of its units of positive and negative forces, that brings it into a material plane. These are of ether, or atomic forces, being electrical in nature as they enter into a material basis, or become matter in its ability to take on or throw off. So, as a group may raise the atomic vibrations that make for those positive forces as bring divine force in action into a material plane, those that are destructive are broken down by the raising of that vibration! That's material, see? This is done through Creative Forces, which are God in manifestation! Hence as self brings those little things necessary, as each is found to be necessary, for position, posture, time, period, place, name, understanding, study each, and assist each in their respective sphere. So does the entity become the healer." (281-3)

"...the body physical is an atomic structure...If in the atomic forces there becomes an overbalancing, an injury, a happening, an accident, there are certain atomic forces destroyed or others increased...When a body... has so attuned or raised its own vibrations sufficiently, it may - by the motion of the spoken word - awaken the activity of the emotions to such an extent as to revivify, resuscitate, or to change the rotary force or influence or the atomic forces in the activity of the structural portion, or the vital forces of a body, in such a way and manner as to set it again in motion. Thus does spiritual or psychic influence...bring healing..." (281-24)

"...as the body may dedicate its life and its abilities to a definite service, to the Creative Forces, or God, there will be healing forces brought to the body. This requires, then, that the mental attitude be such as to not only proclaim or announce a belief in the divine, and to promise to dedicate self to same, but the entity must consistently live such." (3121-1)

"For all healing - mental or material - is attuning each atom of the body, each reflex of the brain forces, to the awareness of the divine that lies within each atom, each cell of the body." (3384-2)

Edgar Cayce on Illness:

"...all illness comes from sin. This everyone must take whether they like it or not; it comes from sin - whether it be of body, of mind, or of soul, and these manifest in the earth...And when there are rebellions of body or mind against such, is there any wonder that the atoms of the body cause high blood pressure, or cause itching, or cause running sores, or cause a rash, or cause indigestion? For, all of these are but the rebellion of truth and light, error and correction in a physical body. For thy body is indeed the Temple of the Living God. What have you dragged into this Temple?" (3174-1)

"...all illness is sin, not necessarily of the moment, as man counts time, but as a part of the whole experience. For God has not purposed or willed that any soul should perish, but purgeth everyone by illness, by prosperity, by hardships, by those things needed, in order to meet self - but in Him, by faith and works, are ye made every whit whole." (3395-2)

Edgar Cayce on Medicine:

"Healing... whether from influences in nature that have been instilled for the benefits of man throughout his activity in a material world, or whether moved by the spirit of life itself...is all of the same source." (281-27)

Edgar Cayce on Life's Purpose:

"The purpose of life, then, is not the gratifying of appetites nor of any selfish desires, but it is that the entity, the soul, may make the earth, where the entity finds it consciousness, a better place in which to live." (404702)

Edgar Cayce on Love:

"The first lesson that each must learn: Love is the giving out of that within self." (262-44)

"...in love all life is given, in love all things move. In giving one attains. In giving one acquires. In giving love comes as the fulfillment of desire, guided, directed, in the ways that bring the more perfect knowledge of application of self as related to the universal, all powerful, all guiding, all divine influence in life - or it is life." (345-1)

"...much will come to thee in the knowledge of the fact that law, love, are one - even as the forces in all nature are one - as is necessary for the budding of the acorn or the flowering of the rose, each seeking through that phase of its position given in nature or this sphere to express that appreciation of the gift of its Creator." (900-428)

"...love is giving, it is a growth. It may be cultivated or it may be seared. That of selflessness on the part of each is necessary...Love grows; love endures; love forgiveth; love understands; love keeps those things rather as opportunities that to others would become hardships." (939-1)

"Love in its broader sense is the motive influence, then, as to that which is creative. For love is giving, and the spirit of same is never demanding... As indicated in the spirit of love, it is universal and gives and takes; is patient, is kind, is forbearing, shows brotherly love. For it is only in such that one becomes, in materiality, aware of the closeness of relationship to the Creative Forces or God." (1703-3)

"Love goes far beyond what you call the grave." - (5756-14)

The preceding excerpts from Cayce Readings taken from "A Dictionary: Definitions and Comments from the Edgar Cayce Readings," compiled by Gerald J. Cataldo and published by A.R.E. Press, Sixty-Eighth & Atlantic Avenue, P.O. Box 656, Virginia Beach, VA 23451-0656

Baar Products, Inc.

Supplier of Edgar Cayce Products and more...

Health, Healing & Wellness:

In the 1920s and 1930s, long before traditional medicine began examining the impact the mind has on physical health, America's "sleeping psychic" Edgar Cayce was laying the groundwork for one of the most fascinating truths presented in the 20th Century: What one thinks and feels emotionally will find expression in the physical body. Mental patterns can have a direct impact upon good physical health or disease. The mind, Cayce asserted, is a powerful tool in creating health and wellness. The information from the readings on health includes simple suggestions that each of us can do to stay well. The nature of many of these recommendations indicates that Cayce's understanding of physical care was really ahead of its time. These basic principles include such items as maintaining a well-balanced diet, regular exercise, the role of attitudes and emotions, the importance of relaxation and recreation, and keeping our physical bodies cleansed - both on the outside and the inside. Cayce's approach to staying well had its roots in health maintenance and prevention.

~ The preceding is from the Baar Products, Inc. catalog. To request a catalog of Edgar Cayce Products, Vitamin/Mineral & Herbal Supplements, Soaps & Shampoos, Educational Products, and much more, call 1-800-269-2502; Or fax 610-873-7945; or write P.O. Box 60, Downingtown, PA 19335; or visit on the web at <http://www.baar.com>